

18 novembre 2015– Journée européenne du patrimoine universitaire
“Bringing Light on the Institute of Physics of the University of Strasbourg”

University of Strasbourg

Programme :

On this special day, the Jardin des sciences of the University of Strasbourg will propose a time travel through the heritage of the Institute of Physics. This conference - workshop will focus on architecture and ancient instrument collections and will highlight the light-related educational and research practices.

Open to the students and University staff, and to a larger audience, this presentation is also part of the multidisciplinary conference programme coordinated by the Jardin des sciences.

By Delphine Issenmann, Collections manager, Jardin des sciences, University of Strasbourg

Access: Free admission, no reservation required

15h, Amphithéâtre Fresnel, 3 rue de l'Université, Strasbourg

Further information: delphine.issenmann@unistra.fr

