

18 novembre 2016– European Academic Heritage Day “Heritage at war ”

University of Strasbourg

Programme :

On this special day, the Jardin des sciences (University of Strasbourg) will propose a guided tour in the museum of Seismology and the exhibition "Sismo Strasbourg", focusing on the instruments used by scientists in a military context.

Open to the students and University staff, and to a larger audience, this tour is also part of the multidisciplinary conference program coordinated by the Jardin des sciences.

In addition, the Jardin des sciences will enhance on the social media images and documents relating and illustrating troubled moments of the history of the institution, namely the transfer of the University to Clermont-Ferrand during Second World War.

By Delphine Issenmann, Collections manager, Jardin des sciences, University of Strasbourg

Access: The reservation for the guided tour is closed

Further information: delphine.issenmann@unistra.fr

